SECTION 1 - DOCUMENT DETAILS

1.1 - DOCUMENT CLASSIFICATION

All contents and assets of this document are to not be shared outside of the Emergency Response Team. This document has been deemed classified by the Office of the Commanding Officer and Administration. Leaking of this document, or anything related to it will result in severe punishment.

1.2 - DOCUMENT AUTHORIZATION

This document was contributed too and written through the Office of the Commanding Officer. All contents and assets of this document are authorized to be used and shall be enforced at all times.

Vancouver Emergency Response Team
Standard Operating Procedure
Version 1.0.0

SECTION 2 - EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM POLICIES

2.1 - ACTIVITY STANDARDS & REQUIREMENTS

All members of the Emergency Response Team shall be required to complete a form of activity every week in order to be considered active. Violation of this policy can result in disciplinary action. If an operator knows they will be away for a certain amount of time, they may request Leave. Any leave request over 2 weeks must be permitted by a member of administration.

All Operatives of the Emergency Response Team are required a minimum of 45 minutes per week. Operatives who are employed in a secondary division will be required to complete a minimum of 30 minutes per week. Those who are in command of a division/secondary division (Deputy Director+/Lieutenant+) are not required to complete any activity requirements, though they are to show activity to remain in their position. Finally, the Division Administration are not required activity requirements due to a majority of the work being done out of game, though they are still required to show activity within the discord, and in game occasionally to show they are performing their duties of overseeing the division.

2.2 - CONDUCT & BEHAVIOR

All members of the Emergency Response Team are required, and are expected to perform their duties with a high level of maturity, integrity, and devotion. If an Operator conducts their duties in a negative way, he/she is going against what was taught to them and disciplinary action will be ministered. Failure to use the radio professionally and for Law Enforcement purposes only will result in action being taken against you.

If an operative fails to conduct his duties for example, failing a hostage rescue, failure to drive properly or handle a firearm. The operative may be sent back to the academy to re-do a certain chapter. Lieutenant+ can send an operative back to the academy if it's necessary.

All supervisor ranks may give PT to operatives on deployments if the operative is incompetent. Failure to follow the supervisor's order will result in a strike for incompetence.

2.3 - EQUIPMENT POLICY

All department-issued equipment is to be used in work-related situations. Department-issued equipment shall not be used for entertainment purposes or any kind of personal gain.

2.4 - DEPLOYMENT STANDARDS

The Emergency Response Team follows a deployment system where Operatives may only patrol while there is a High Crime Rate (HCR), the division is paged, or when the Emergency Response Team is deployed by a member of Command. Once deployed, the Deployment Officer has full command over the deployment period. No operative shall drive alone in a car, there must be 2+ per car. Sergeants are exempt if not Deployment Officer.

Vancouver Emergency Response Team
Standard Operating Procedure
Version 1.0.0

2.5 - DISCIPLINARY ACTION POLICY

The Emergency Response Team has an Internal Affairs unit under the Office of the Commanding Officer which contains a small group of investigators who investigate cases against operators of the division [Disclaimer: If the division is on a zero tolerance policy, actions will be adjusted to hold operators more accountable for their actions. This is done by raising the weight of the action]

The division goes off of three main disciplinary actions. A strike, suspension, or a termination. On occasion if a demotion needs to be issued, that may be included as well. Throughout the division, if any operative reaches the limit of 2 strikes/suspensions they will be issued a termination from the division. Strikes can be appealed after 1 month of good behavior. There is a limit of 3 terminations.

2.6 - RESIGNATION POLICY

When resigning from the Emergency Response Team, all members are given 24 hours that are retractable. The 24 hour notice will not be announced until the 24 hours are up, and the operator has fully resigned. If the operator retracts, nothing is announced. If an operative has served the Emergency Response team for less than 1 month and resigned, they will be blacklisted from the Emergency Response Team for 4 months.

2.7 - AUTHORITY POLICY

The Emergency Response Team has the authority of all non-tactical departments and divisions. If there are other tactical agencies in the same situations, the highest-ranking individual will take the role of scene command. The Emergency Response Team must work as a team with other Law Enforcement to resolve all situations.

2.8 - BASIC COURTESIES

Emergency Response Team Operatives must address Operatives by their rank or name and Administration should be addressed as sir/ma'am or by their rank/name. Operatives must follow orders given by their supervisor, supervisors have authority over their operatives. If you feel like an order is unreasonable, let an Investigator know.

2.9 - ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY

The Zero Tolerance Policy lists all common reasons for which a person may be terminated from the Emergency Response Team. Anyone who violates this policy will be immediately removed from the Emergency Response Team. Updates to this policy may be made from time to time and an announcement will be made if required.

Zero Tolerance Policy may be initiated when there is an increase in misconduct by employees. Major+ may begin a Zero Tolerance Policy for the reasons stated above. Zero Tolerance periods will usually last between a week or two weeks. Any claims of misconduct will result in immediate termination from the Emergency Response Team.

Vancouver Emergency Response Team Standard Operating Procedure Version 1.0.0

Being inactive in the Emergency Response Team will lead to a strike. The current activity policy is forty-five (45) minutes every seven (7) days. You will be notified if you are semi-inactive or fully inactive. You will have two (2) days after the notice to submit a log or face a strike from the Emergency Response Team. You can also be terminated for being inactive on multiple occasions.

Major misconduct such as going rogue is an immediate termination from the Emergency Response Team. Major Misconduct includes abuse of tools and vehicles on duty, also doing crime off and on duty. Should you go rogue on duty, you will not only be terminated from the Emergency Response Team but you will also face a permanent ban from the City of Vancouver.

Employees that decide to misbehave excessively, usually more than 2 times, will be terminated from the Emergency Response Team. It is at the discretion of the administration on terminating them or not.

Upon receiving a strike an employee will be placed under the Zero Tolerance Policy for 1 month (30 days) and if they do anything else strike-worthy within that month they will be terminated from the Emergency Response Team. After that one-month period, they are allowed one more strike, anything after that will result in a termination.

No employee currently serving in the Emergency Response Team may have an arrest 5 on their record. If an employee is found to have a record that does not meet the requirements of this section, the employee will be terminated from the Emergency Response Team.

Vancouver Emergency Response Team
Standard Operating Procedure
Version 1.0.0

SECTION 3 - VEHICLE STRUCTURE AND PURSUIT INFORMATION

3.1 - TACTICAL RESPONSE UNIT VEHICLE POLICY

Operatives who are not currently deployed are to use the Dodge Charger, Ford F-150, Ford Explorer, Ford CVPI, Ford Taurus, and Chevloret Tahoe. Senior Operatives and above who are currently not deployed may use the Dodge Durango. Sergeants and above who are currently not deployed may use the Dodge Ram 1500, and other previously mentioned vehicles. The Lenco Industries BearCat and Ford F-350 may only be utilized during deployments. The AM General Humvee is to be used by all TRU members when they have 3+ operatives and when it is extreme HCR.

3.2 - PURSUIT POLICY

The Emergency Response Team only responds to pursuits that are deemed High-Risk (Such as the suspect is shooting out of the vehicle), if the Operative starts the pursuit or if the pursuit has lasted more than 5 minutes.

When a pursuit starts, it is to be called on the universal radio channel as, "10-80/80 Tac1/T1". All updates and locations of the pursuit will take place on the T1 channel. The Frontside passenger is always required to update the status of the pursuit.

Vancouver Emergency Response Team Standard Operating Procedure

Version 1.0.0

If the deployment officer is using The Lenco Industries Bearcat, or The Ford Dually F-350, you may not attach to the pursuit.

SECTION 4 - UNIFORM STRUCTURE INFORMATION/ LEAVE OF ABSENCE INFORMATION

4.1 - EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM UNIFORM POLICY

The Tactical Response Unit has a strict uniform policy that can vary the higher the rank that operator is. Within the Tactical Response Unit, the operator is to wear a tactical helmet, tactical vest equipped with a sling, a leg holster, and the ERT Combat

<https://prnt.sc/1t65fld>

4.3 - LEAVE OF ABSENCE POLICY

Vancouver Emergency Response Team Standard Operating Procedure

Version 1.0.0

The Emergency Response team will follow a Leave of Absence Policy which will go as following:

You will be given a maximum of 1 week LOA, and will only get longer unless it's an emergency, if it's something like a vacation. To take a Leave of Absence, you will be required to dm your respective Captain to get it approved. In order for Captains to take an LOA, they will be required to dm the Major of Field Operations. While on LOA you will not be allowed to be in game during the duration of your LOA. If you're caught, you will be striked for insubordination.

The report that follows provides a detailed analysis of the investigation into Deputy Sheriff, shviapillips. The report that follows provides an investigation summary, relevant evidence pertaining to the investigation, and an investigation outcome.

INVESTIGATION SUMMARY

- ❖ A video was sent to the Internal Affairs showing Deputy Sheriff shviapillips not providing a Supervisor to a civilian at approximately 12:12 PM EST on 1/22/22. This is a Violation of Handbook Section 7, Article 1, Clause a; Violation Executive Order #003.
- ❖ Upon investigation, it was found that the only reason that the individual was denied a Supervisor request was that the Deputy blocked the suspect. They were blocked voluntarily and the Deputy acknowledged that they would not be able to see the civilian's messages by doing so. As per the Departmental Handbook and Executive Order #003, a civilian is granted the right to a Supervisor prior to being arrested. As seen in the video clip, there was a Supervisor within the game, causing no reason for the Supervisor request to be denied.
- ❖ The Deputy stated how LEO's should treat the public impartially, and that being blocked doesn't allow the civilian to receive special treatment and they should still be treated like a regular civilian. In this case, the civilian within the video was not treated like a regular civilian, causing them to receive unjust treatment and not provide their legal right to a Supervisor.
- ❖ The Deputy shouldn't have been the arresting officer in the first place as the civilian would have no way to communicate with the Deputy and exercise their civil rights, with the Deputy stating "i treated them like as a regular person in this scenario. even if i knew they were blocked. i thought they werent even gonna ask for a supervisor anyways." The Deputy, in response to why an individual wouldn't use their right to a Supervisor, further states "theyd be too busy venting. i blocked them so i wouldnt

The Deputy, in response to why an individual wouldn't use their right to a Supervisor, further states "theyd be too busy venting. i blocked them so i wouldnt have to stand their toxicity & disrespect. they would be venting if i tried arresting them, so thats also why i blocked them."
- ❖ All in all, it is sheer neglect and negligence of a civilian's rights to not provide a Supervisor. The Deputy willingly blocked the civilian on their own accord, causing them to face a violation of their civil right of a Supervisor. With recommendation from the Ministry of Justice for a termination (alongside the MOJ ZTP being in place), it would only be neglectful to allow this to continue.
